WHERE THE BEACH MEETS THE BUSH

Fraser Coast the Fishing and Whale watching capital of Australia.

From the road this house is the picture of tranquility "windmill on sempfs" where the beach meets the bush.

Four hundred metres from the beach, there stands before you a working windmill 132 years old in all its glory with a wishing well giving you an abundance of water. The established gardens of over ¾ of an acre have many areas to unwind and soak up the ambiance, from the love seat under the fig tree, to the alfresco dining area, fire pit and all the rustic treasures hidden within.

This home has 4 generous bedrooms including 3 queen size rooms and 1 king single room with a walk in wardrobe/study cubby. The master bedroom has a reading nook/nursery and a walk through double wardrobe to a spa ensuite bathroom. The open plan generous lounge, kitchen, dining room and office also incorporate a large computer/sewing/craft room. The laundry is fully functional and the family bathroom is more than adequate. The two bay shed easily holds 4 vehicles or any combination of workshop, boat, caravan, trailer or kyak.

Dundowran Beach itself is close to Akkarra Gardens, Vine Forest and Fraser Island the largest sand island in the world. There are many many activities, attractions and amenities available www.visitfrasercoast.com.au
