TIMING IS EVERYTHING IN REAL ESTATE NOW IS THE TIME

... The Clock Ticks.

Timing is everything in real estate. The time is right; the numbers are right; the interest rates are right; new homes are under construction; and there is an increase in demand for resale properties in our area. This is the time to select your allotment and build your next custom home.

We no longer need to be concerned about your present home selling. The market has changed and the resale stock in Brisbane (Gold Coast) has reduced to realistic levels.

If a home is priced within a reasonable range, that home will sell quickly. There are more buyers searching in the marketplace than listings to satisfy their needs.

If your dream is to own a new home, NOW IS THE TIME.

Take advantage of the low prices of new construction compared to several years ago. New homes are incredibly more environmentally efficient with the State Government now mandating all new homes constructed be a minimum of six star energy rating, this feature alone can save tens of thousands of dollars over the term of the home loan.

New construction is on the move. The time is right; the numbers are right; the interest rates are right; and homes are being built.

Timing is everything in real estate.
