This 44.95 ha block is the perfect to develop into a lifestyle property. Located along a quiet country road, the undulating landscape and beautiful views make it very inviting. An elevated house site can be found on the north-western side of the property, with remnants of the old home still visible. Power has previously been installed and can easily be reconnected. So much is possible here - clearing of some regrowth to make it more productive for cattle grazing, - planting trees to increase the rainforest proportion and wildlife habitat, - or building a home nestled amongst the trees and valleys.

The property is fenced and could currently run approximately 20 head of cattle.
