Established in 2003, this is a mature farming enterprise with trusted relationships with distributors and demand well exceeding current supply.

There are 15,000 Achacha trees with plant breeders rights (PBRs) giving sole rights to commercialise the fruit variety in Australia until 2036.

Future additional income may be derived from selective harvesting of 3,000 African Mahogany (windbreak) trees.

Other ideas might include pursuing the medicinal properties of the fruit, with some studies having been done.

This is a unique and rare opportunity; Certified organic, using biodynamic growing methods so that the cost of expensive traditional fertilisers is eliminated resulting in excellent net profit.

Importantly, the picking season is only about 8 weeks and wwoofers love the experience.

All Achacha trees are equipped with sprinklers, and there is a solar powered automatic watering system.

There is a bore for domestic water, and rainwater tanks.

All systems are in place including; comprehensive equipment, accommodation, packaging materials, transport and marketing.

The property is located on the Bruce Highway, Mount Surround (Giru) QLD 45 Km South of Townsville and approximately 40 minutes from the Townsville airport.
