Light, lofty, architectural, ocean front.

This is one of the finest homes for one of the most discerning clients Giorgi homes have ever built. Approximately 838sqm of exquisitely considered lifestyle and living space. Wide open views span across vast tracts of coastal dunes opposite and out to the Indian Ocean and beyond.

The home's ocean front location formed inspiration for the design, with the rolling swell lines opposite reflected in the striking concrete curvature of the homes internal and external roof design.

With the ability to open the home up completely to the elements, the gentle breezes, the days temperatures, the fresh sea air and the scent of the coastal dunes have a way of integrating with your internal living space in a way that needs to be experienced to be fully understood.

Views to the ocean are available from almost every room internally. They are also available looking straight through the home from the alfresco lounges, pool and rear gardens and are completely unimpeded by the home's significant structure and size, due to such intelligent design.
