

24 WHIORE AVENUE TAURIKO

FOR SALE

GENERAL ENGINEERING

This is an established engineering business in Tauranga, that has a great reputation and repeat customers.

Currently operated as a self employed business, but has the capacity to grow and have employees/contractors. The current owner does no advertising, so with marketing this business can generate more business.

Not one day is the same, ranging from general repairs, making products to clients specifications, springs or other General Engineering work that comes in.

Bonus is the owner has designs of products that can be made and sold as extra income, or a side hustle to the main business.

Assets of the business include Plant & Equipment, Ute and Forklift, plus intangibles.

Not many engineering businesses in this price bracket, so good chance to buy a business to get started in the Engineering Industry or leave current employment to operate your own business and be the Boss!!!

If interested, contact Teresa for NDA form.
