This gorgeous, neat asbestos home, built in 1963, has all the usual attributes homeowners adore: high ceilings, enormous bedrooms, stunning jarrah floors throughout, and an awesome kitchen with a modern oven/hob AND a delightful old woodfire oven/hob that still works—or can act as a 2nd fireplace to warm the rooms in winter.

Add wide, long corridors, a massive lounge with a fireplace (and the funkiest carpet ever!), a modern full bathroom, separate laundry, a north-west-facing enclosed back patio/dining area that enjoys glorious winter sun, PLUS a whopping 910 m2 yard. Seriously, it's got it all - what's not to love?

If this isn't impressive enough, there's another surprise in store – the property is subdividable –
