Bathed in a crisp, contemporary palette, the interiors of 47B Rawhiti Street have been completely refreshed with new carpet and a full repaint, bringing a bright, modern feel throughout. This update enhances the home's clean lines and well-balanced layout, creating an inviting environment that feels both practical and considered.

Arranged across two levels, the home offers impressive flexibility for a wide range of living situations. Whether you need extra room for family, a dedicated work-from-home setup, or the option to accommodate boarders, the layout adapts with ease. Thoughtful separation between spaces allows for privacy while still maintaining a connected, comfortable flow. With the hard work already done, it's ready to move in and make your own.

Upstairs is light-filled and welcoming, with two bedrooms, the main kitchen, and bathroom with separate toilet. The living area connects seamlessly to an elevated deck, making the most of natural light and the home's position.

Downstairs offers even more flexibility, with two additional bedrooms, a second bathroom, kitchenette, separate living area, rumpus room, and a dedicated study. This level provides excellent independence, making it ideal for extended family, guests, boarders, or working from
