Built in 2023, this thoughtfully designed home was created as a long-term family residence, with the owners investing in comfort, practicality and lifestyle rather than building purely as an investment property.
Inside, the home offers a well-planned layout with a spacious open-plan living and dining area centred around a modern kitchen featuring an island bench, quality appliances and ample storage. A standout feature is the versatile sun / games room, providing valuable additional space that can easily adapt to suit your lifestyle, whether used as a playroom, study area, media room or home office.
Additional features such as solar-ready infrastructure and a video surveillance system provide future energy efficiency options and added peace of mind. Located in a modern and family-friendly neighbourhood in Edmonton, the home is just a short drive from local schools, shopping centres and everyday amenities.
