THE KIND OF HOME BUYERS KEEP LOOKING FOR

There's something reassuring about a home that has been cared for and improved over time.

From the street, the home makes a great first impression. Inside, fresh neutral interiors create a calm, relaxed feel from the moment you walk through the door. New carpet and drapes, double glazing, an updated bathroom, and an electrical rewire with a new switchboard mean many of the major improvements have already been completed.

The modern kitchen connects naturally with the dining room before flowing through to the lounge. It's an easy layout to live with, bringing the main living spaces together while still giving each area its own purpose.

All three bedrooms are genuine doubles with built-in wardrobes, giving everyone their own space without compromise. The bathroom is both stylish and functional, with a bath, separate shower and a vanity that adds its own touch of character. A separate laundry with good storage adds another practical touch.

The home enjoys plenty of sun, and when the seasons change you'll appreciate the warmth of the pellet fire along with ceiling and underfloor insulation.

Outside is another pleasant surprise. The long driveway provides generous off-street parking, making room for extra vehicles, a trailer or visitors, while the attractive street setting is one that's long been popular with buyers.

This isn't a home that relies on one standout feature. Instead, it's a collection of well-considered improvements, generous spaces and practical touches that come together to create a home that simply feels right.

The best way to appreciate it is to step inside. We'd love to show you through.
