WHY YOU'LL LOVE LIVING HERE

Some homes just have a way of bringing people together.

They're the homes where family gathers around the kitchen, birthdays spill out into the backyard, Christmas is celebrated around a big table, and everyday moments become some of your favourite memories.

Set on a generous 816sqm block in tightly held McFarlane Close, this substantial five-bedroom, three-bathroom home offers something equally important – enough space for everyone to come together, and enough room to enjoy their own space when they need it.

With three separate living zones, a dedicated study area, a guest suite with its own ensuite, an expansive central chef's kitchen and exceptional outdoor entertaining, this is a home designed to adapt through every stage of family life.

Young children, teenagers, visiting family, grandparents or working from home – flexibility isn't an afterthought here.

It's built into the floorplan.
