SPECTACULAR PANORAMIC WATER VIEWS – A PEACEFUL COASTAL SANCTUARY

Extraordinary views. Absolute tranquility. An exceptional coastal lifestyle.

Imagine waking each morning to one of southern Tasmania's most spectacular coastal panoramas, where the sparkling waters of the River Derwent stretch endlessly before you and the magnificent kunanyi / Mount Wellington provides a dramatic, ever-changing backdrop.

Welcome to 135 Blessington Street, South Arm – a beautifully positioned coastal retreat where breathtaking scenery, peaceful surroundings and relaxed living come together in perfect harmony.

The views are nothing short of extraordinary.

Stretching from Dennes Point on Bruny Island, across the waters towards Tinderbox and Taroona, and continuing all the way to the Tasman Bridge, this remarkable outlook captures an expansive sweep of southern Tasmania's spectacular coastline.

From passing yachts including front row seats for the Sydney Hobart yachts, shimmering summer waters to dramatic winter skies and spectacular sunsets over the mountain, the constantly changing scenery provides a captivating display throughout the seasons.

And unlike many properties where the views are enjoyed from just one vantage point, here they become an integral part of everyday living.

A Living Room with a View You'll Never Tire Of

The home's magnificent open-plan living and dining area is designed to embrace its exceptional position.

Expansive windows and glass doors frame the breathtaking panorama, flooding the interior with natural light and creating a seamless connection between indoors and out.
